Large animal surgery is complex, but doesn't have to be for large animal owners. The UF Large Animal Hospital has the most diagnostic and treatment options for our patients, giving the most complete care for our clients.

Click on the links below to learn about some of our surgical procedures. To schedule an appointment or to speak with one of our veterinarians contact us at 352-392-2229.

largeanimal.vethospitals.ufl.edu

Large Animal Links

Colic Emergencies

What to do if your horse is exhibiting the clinical signs of colic and colic surgery at UF.

Learn more.
Guttural Pouch Surgery

Guttural pouches are unique structures that can develop life-threatening diseases in horses. Read about diseases of the guttural pouch and surgical options.

Learn more.

Sinus Surgery

The sinuses in horses are large, air-filled cavities and when infected can become debilitating. Read about surgical options for horses with sinus diseases.

Learn more.

UF Large Animal News

Success Story of the Month: Sonny's Joint Injury

Read about Sonny's diagnosis & treatment at UF of his life-threatening joint injury.

Learn more.

UF College of Veterinary Medicine Open House

Join us Saturday, April 12, 2014 in Gainesville for our annual Open House. See an equine treadmill demo, watch a pregnant mare ultrasound, and more!

Learn more.